Greater Woodhaven Development Corporation on the occasion of its 20th Anniversary Celebration.

The members of the Greater Woodhaven Development Corporation have long been known for their commitment to community service and to enhancing the quality of life for all New York City residents.

This event is not only a festive happening, it is a chance for all of us to celebrate and pay tribute to a group of individuals who have dedicated their lives to helping their friends and neighbors. This year's honorees truly represent the best of what our community has to offer.

As a member of the Board of Directors for the American Cancer Society, Queens Division, Douglas A. Gerowski helped raise more than $50,000 in a five-year period through the organization's "Stepping Out Against Cancer" fund-raising campaigns. Douglas has served as a Chairman of the Greater Woodhaven Development Corporations Board of Directors and coined the slogan "Taking Care of BiDness" as the Woodhaven Business Improvement District's first 3rd Vice President. He currently serves as the President of the Merillon Athletic Association of Hew Hyde Park and is actively involved in coaching his children's baseball, basketball and hockey teams.

Born a few months after Pearl Harbor, Jeffrey Lewis grew up in Woodhaven and attended local public schools. At that time, Jeffrey's family already owned and operated a small store, Lewis' of Woodhaven, on Jamaica Avenue and 85th Street. While in high school, Jeffrey helped his family celebrate the opening of Lewis' of Woodhaven's second store on Jamaica Avenue between 90th and 91st Streets. Following his graduation from the University of Denver in 1963, Jeffrey got married and started working full time at Lewis' of Woodhaven. Within a few short years, Jeffrey and his loving wife Marlin were blessed with two daughters. Even though he moved his family to Westchester, Jeffrey's roots and time were all in Woodhaven. In 1989, Jeffrey became involved with the Woodhaven Business Improvement District Feasibility Committee and became the first President of the Woodhaven Business Improvement District in 1993 upon its creation. While most of Jeffrey Lewis' time is still spent running the family business, he makes sure to enjoy the time he has with each of his children and grandchildren.

Today's honorees have long been known as innovators and beacons of good will to all those with whom they come into contact. Through their dedicated efforts, they have each helped to improve my constituents' quality of life. In recognition of their many accomplishments on behalf of my constituents, I offer my congratulations on their being honored by the Greater Woodhaven Development Corporation.

a bill to free the National Labor Relations Board from being overburdened because bracket creep has forced them to accept cases from very small employers in this nation. Here is a copy of my "Dear Colleague" and a report from the Labor Policy Association that outlines the problem and why it is important to small businesses in America to correct this problem.

FREE THE NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS BOARD (NLRB). HELP REDUCE UNNECESSARY BURDEN ON SMALL BUSINESS

DEAR COLLEAGUE: This Congress, Mr. Istook is introducing legislation to help the NLRB manage their huge caseload. Each year the NLRB requests additional funding to help them administer and manage their caseload. This legislative reform simply makes adjustments for inflation in the financial jurisdictional thresholds of the NLRB, most of which were set in 1959. The NLRB can still adjudicate special cases below these thresholds, just as they can do today. It is crucial that we provide the NLRB with this freedom. We urge you to cosponsor this bill. Two former NLRB Chairs support this change.

The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) is the government agency designed to settle labor disputes between unions and management. In 1959, Congress passed a law to give NLRB jurisdiction over businesses based on gross receipts. Once a business passes that threshold of gross receipts, it is subject to intervention by the NLRB. Businesses below the threshold are subject to actions brought in state courts, instead of the NLRB.

Without an adjustment for inflation, businesses and the NLRB have been caught in "bracket creep," as inflation has increased since 1959, the NLRB has acquired jurisdiction over much smaller businesses than was ever intended, escalating the expense and workload for the NLRB as well as for business. These now include very small businesses, for whom the cost of such intervention is unbearable. Up to 20% of the NLRB's workload now is these very small businesses. For example, NLRB has jurisdiction over non-retail businesses with gross receipts over $50,000, an inflation adjustment would raise that threshold to $275,773. NLRB has jurisdiction over retail businesses and restaurants doing more than $500,000 worth of business, but adjusting for inflation since 1959 would raise this to $2.7 million. Congress never intended to subject smaller businesses to such a heavy regulatory hammer.

The NLRB is powerless to change its jurisdiction without an act of Congress. So this legislation will do exactly that. By indexing the jurisdiction to the rate of inflation, the NLRB could again focus upon the larger businesses for whom the law was originally written. Small businesses have been severely burdened by dealing with the far-off NLRB instead of their local state courts (Examples on Reverse).

This bill's simple adjustment both frees NLRB to deal with significant cases truly affecting interstate commerce, and also removes the problems very small businesses have with NLRB oversight (See Example on the Reverse). If you have any questions, please call Mr. Istook's office and speak with Dr. Bill Duncan at (202) 225-2132.
